1. Aftermath: Sexual Sanity in the Wake of a Sexual Revolution: The world seems to have turned upside down. A moral revolution is reshaping the entire cultural landscape. What should Christians think? How do we demonstrate both truth and compassion? How do we raise children in an age like this?

2. Building or Rebuilding Your Women’s Ministry: In our rapidly changing world, what women need more than ever is to understand and apply the gospel to their own lives and to all those in their spheres of influence. Please join us as we focus on necessary components of ministries to women in the local church and how you can have a role in getting them started.

3. Coffee Shop Discipleship: We are all called to disciple others, but how can you fit it into your already crazy schedule? Discover the who, what, when, where, why, and how of making disciples and brewing up fresh friendships. It's a rewarding way to invest in lives and have fun doing it.

4. Communication Skills in Marriage: The number one struggle most couples have is communicating effectively with each other. This could be due, among many things, to everyday stress, unusual trials, or a lack of understanding of HOW to communicate. Dr. and Mrs. Beougher will give a man and woman's practical view of some life-long skills to enrich your marriage.

5. Confidence for the Imperfect Parent: Moms are often so aware of their imperfections they have a hard time displaying confidence in their parenting. This talk is meant to encourage moms not to get hung up on their imperfections, but to press on with confidence, knowing that God's grace will meet their every need as they discipline, teach, and love their children.

6. Cultivating Contentment: Contentment is something we are to be learning as Christians. But it is difficult for all of us! We will think together about how God’s Word and character helps us, and then discuss practical applications.

7. Helping Women Help Others in a World Filled with Pornography: Living in a world saturated with pornography, women need to be equipped to help the women in their churches deal with family members who are tempted with and/or addicted to pornography. This seminar will address how to recognize how shockingly widespread the problem is; give biblical principles for the hurting women to deal with it; and suggest protective programs for their computers as we join together to battle Satan’s desire to tear families down through this stronghold.

8. Home Management 101: Managing a home is a multi-faceted privilege and responsibility. Join us as we talk about time management, home cleaning and maintenance, food planning and preparation, and other tasks. Our goal is to make our homes a haven of rest and refreshment for our families and others.

9. How Could They? Practicing Forgiveness in a World Filled with Failures: From childhood, we've been taught to play nicely, to apologize, and to forgive. Then why do we still struggle? Romans 12:14-21 leads us through gospel renewal into forgiveness. Since Jesus serves me, what are the implications? Since Jesus blesses those who persecute him, what are the implications? Since Jesus overcomes evil with good, what are the implications? He is the answer for every hurting and hardened heart.

10. My Body, His Temple: Body Image and the Glory of God: This timely seminar will address the ways we view, treat, and use our bodies in light of the gospel. "You are not your own, for you were bought with a price. So glorify God in your body."

11. My Husband, My Ministry—Insights from a Young Pastor’s Wife: This seminar, led by a homeschooling mom of four whose husband is a pastor and doctoral student, will examine some practical ways for a young pastor’s wife to serve and lead alongside her husband in the ministry of the local church, while balancing many roles. In a culture where many young adults are no longer in church, many young pastors and their families will likely serve a church composed of a predominantly older congregation. This presents some unique challenges and joys as they seek to learn how to faithfully love the church body.
